

The Clover Connection

Building Better Lives and Stronger Communities through Paulding County 4-H

May/June | 2018

Welcome

Michael's Note

It is hard to believe that the 2018 Paulding County Fair is a little over a month away. Hopefully, all of you are working hard on your projects to show what you know and have learned. I am very excited to see all of the projects as well as all of you during the fair this year. In the office, we are working hard to be sure that your fair and judging experiences exceed your expectations.

This edition of the Clover Connection has a lot of information that you should find useful as you prepare for the fair. Also included is the Still Project Judging Schedule and the annual Senior Tribute. Please take the time to review all of the included information and review important dates. Hopefully many of your questions will be answered and will help reduce your stress as you put your finishing touches on your projects.

I also want to say congratulations and good luck to the thirteen Seniors who participate in 4-H in Paulding County. I truly hope all of you achieve your goals in the years to come. Graduating is a major life accomplishment and you should be very proud of yourselves.

As always, if you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact the office to get the answers you need. We are here to ensure that you have everything you need to be successful as you complete your 4-H experience this year.

4-H Updates

As always, if you have any questions about 4-H, your project, or the fair please feel free to give Michael a call at 419-399-8225 or e-mail at Schweinsberg.5@osu.edu.

Advisor Completion Sheets

Advisor grades are due to the Extension Office by the Advisor Countdown meeting scheduled on May 22nd at 6:00 pm. Please remember that all youth must complete a demonstration, community service, project work, and attend a minimum number of meetings as stated in your club's by-laws.

How Do I Prepare for my Still Project Judging?

Do you know what the judges use to score your project presentation? Of course they look at your project and how well you completed it but they also look at your knowledge and understanding of your project. They will ask about the skills you have learned, knowledge gained from your project book, activities completed, quality of work, how your exhibit looks, your attitude, and the way you dress. Remember that the judging is your place to show what you know about your project. You are the expert! Be proud to show others what you have learned.

What Makes a Good Interview?

The 4-H interview process helps all of our youth understand what an interview is and how to take part in the interview process. Many companies state that they can tell when someone they interview has a 4-H background because of how well they do during the interview.

Appearance is the first area that needs to be looked at when going to an interview. You should be well groomed and wear nice clothing that does not have holes or writing. Your hair should be neat as well. After the appearance it is all about selling yourself and what you know. Be confident when introducing yourself and always look the interviewer in the eye. Don't forget to shake their hand. Answer all questions to the best of your ability. During 4-H interviews they will be specifically focused on your project. When your interview is finished, please thank your interviewer and shake their hand again. All questions that are asked regarding specific information about your project will be found in your project book, making it important that you understand your project.

Advisor Score Sheets are due May 22nd during Advisor Countdown.

What needs to be done for my Project?

Is your head spinning because you do not know what you have to complete in order for your project to be ready for the Fair? Take a few minutes and review the 2018 Paulding County Family Handbook that is posted on our website. This handbook lists every project that is taken by the 4-H youth in our county. It discusses what needs to be done at a minimum to have your project completed. It also outlines what needs to be completed for The Ohio State Fair if you are chosen to represent Paulding County. While this book lists required minimums, youth may choose to expand their projects and complete more than is required. If you have questions about what is required after reviewing the handbook give Michael a call and he will be happy to answer any questions you may have. Also included in this issue are similar rubrics used by the judges for evaluating the projects. Most projects fall under the miscellaneous judging but clothing and food have specific rubrics.

What Makes a Good Poster?

A walk through the block building fair week will let you see many things. One noticeable item that can be found everywhere is the Project Poster. These posters are used by 4-H members to highlight areas of their project and be a visual display of the project to teach others about the project. Figuring out what to put on the poster can be a bit of a challenge because not everything from the project can fit on the poster. The most important thing to remember when putting a poster together is making sure it is neat. If you handwrite on the poster be sure the words are straight and in your best handwriting. Pick one or more parts of your project that you want to stand out and use that for your poster. The poster should look full, but not overcrowded. Be sure to add enough information to show everyone that you have learned from taking your project. Design your poster in a way that teaches others about your project. As a reminder, posters must be at least 14" x 22".

Crop and Garden Projects

Again this year, gardening projects will be judged Friday morning of fair. Since these projects are state fair eligible, youth are now required to bring their project to judging. Follow the guidelines written in the Family Handbook. Please reference the enclosed judging schedule for your interview time.

Booths

Announced earlier in the year was the fair theme "Red, White, and Blue; It's Fair Week for You". This year, the Jr. Fairboard decided to allow the youth clubs in the county to design their booth around their own theme and not the theme of the fair. The booths must be set up by 8:00 am on June 11th.

Youth taking animals are not required to have a poster in the booth but it is recommended that all animal projects are represented in the booth. All youth taking a still project are required to have a display in the booth. Wooden display stands are available upon request to hang clothing projects from. No books are permitted to be displayed in the booths. Cloverbuds are encouraged to have a display in the booth. The Club officers must be recognized in the booth in order for the officer to receive their premium. The judges will be determining the winner of the booth contest this year by looking at the appearance/attractiveness of the booth, use of club determined theme, use of organizational emblem, as well as how well the booth holds interest. Awards will be given for the Best Use of Theme, Most Creative, and Most Educational.

Parade

The Jr. Fairboard has determined to have the floats for this year's fair follow the fair theme "Red, White, and Blue; It's Fair Week for You". The float must be at the parade line-up by 6:00 pm on June 11th. Written descriptions of the float must also be ready by 6:00 pm. Your club's name must be represented on the float. Remember that floats are not allowed to be sponsored by a commercial organization. First, second, and third places will be determined by two judges. First place will receive a $40 premium while second and third place will each receive a $25 premium. Please refer to page 80 of the Fairbook for more information.

All club book payments must be paid by Advisor Countdown.

Modeling Contest

The 2018 Modeling Contest has been scheduled on June 12th at 4:00 pm in the Youth Leadership Building. The entry forms have been sent to your 4-H advisor. There is a limit to four youth per club who are not taking a Sewing project. All Sewing participants are automatically eligible for the modeling contest. The Modeling Contest is limited to youth who are exhibiting a project during the fair. Participants may wear the clothing of their choice but swimsuits are not allowed to be worn. Animals are able to be used as part of your presentation as long as they can be walked on stage or carried. Judging will be based on appearance, personality on stage, modeling, posture and poise, projection of voice, as well as your answer to an interview question. If you have participated and won in a modeling class in the past you must advance to the next class regardless of your age. If you have won the Overall Model in past years, you are ineligible to compete. Classes for the modeling contest are: Junior Class: 5-8 years old; Beginner Class: 9-11 years old; Intermediate Class: 12-14 years old; and Advanced Class: 15-19 years old. All ages are based off of your age as of January 1, 2018. Entry forms must be submitted by May 18th to be included in the Modeling Contest.

Cloverbud Show-n-Tell

Cloverbud Show-n-Tell is scheduled on Thursday, June 14th at 9:00 am in the Youth Leadership Building. Cloverbuds will be judged by our Paulding County Jr. Leaders. This is an experience for all Cloverbuds to get used to talking to someone they may have never met before. All Cloverbuds who participate will be given a participation ribbon. Participation is required for Cloverbuds to receive their fair premium. Judges will ask the Cloverbuds to talk about what they have done in 4-H, what they like to do at home, or any other question to excite the Cloverbuds. Members are encouraged to bring their project book or something else that they have made to share with their judge.

Project Judging Dates and Times

Included in the envelope with this issue of the Clover Connection is the Still Project Judging Schedule. Please look for your chosen project title when determining what time you need to be here for judging. Youth are required to be judged during the judging time scheduled for their project in order to be eligible for awards as well as state fair. We will do our best to number the youth in the order that they arrive and judging will follow that order. If the schedule does not work for you, please contact Michael at 419-399-8225 before Monday, May 21st to schedule different arrangements. Please remember that all projects judged at different times other than their scheduled time will not be eligible for awards or the state fair.

A full week is planned for this area and all are encouraged to check out all of the exciting events. If you are wondering, Kahoot will be played during the week. The Kahoot contests were some of the most popular activities we had. Schedules of what will be going on in this area will be available soon and posted on the website.

Livestock Information Update

Are you bringing a horse to the fair this year?

All youth showing a horse at the Paulding County Fair are required to complete the horse safety program. This is completed during the youth's first year in the horse program. If you have not completed this safety program, please call Michael at 419-399-8225.

Skillathon

Skillathon is scheduled for Wednesday, May 30th from 4-7 pm at the Extension Hall. A list of what youth will be tested on as well as study guides are available through the Extension Office. As a reminder, in order to be eligible to show for Grand or Reserve Grand Champion, youth must meet minimum Skillathon score requirements. Also, record books will be collected the night of Skillathon and returned once they have been graded.

Study guides will not be published on the internet but will be emailed to you as requested. Youth are expected to dress as they would for an interview. No logos are allowed to be on clothing. Jeans or skirts must not be stressed, torn, or look worn. No shorts are to be worn. Close-toed shoes must be worn. Showmanship

There are five classes of Showmanship at the Paulding County Jr. Fair. These classes include: Peewee, Beginner, Junior, Senior and Champion of Champion. The Pee Wee Division age requirements are any youth under the age of a Jr. Fair Exhibitor. Beginner Showmanship is for any age youth that are taking the specific species of animal for the first time. Junior Showmanship is for youth ages 13 (as of January 1, 2018) and younger. Junior Class Showmanship winners will show in the Senior Showmanship, regardless of age. Senior Showmanship is for youth ages 14 (as of January 1, 2018) and older or for youth who have previously won Junior Showmanship. Champion of Champion Showmanship is for anyone who has previously won Senior Showmanship as well as those who have won Champion of Champion Showmanship in past years. The Showman of Showmen contest is a prestigious competition for youth who won the Champion of Champion Showmanship in each species for the current year. In the Showman of Showmen, youth are asked to show a horse, swine, poultry, goat, dairy, sheep, dairy/beef feeder, and a rabbit. Please see the 2018 Paulding County Fair book for in depth information regarding the Showmanship classes and requirements.

Livestock Sale

This year's sale order is as follows: Feeder Calves, Swine, Sheep, Rabbits, Goats, Poultry, then Steers. Please note that youth are only permitted to go through the sale ring twice, regardless of species of animal. The Grand and Reserve Champions of each species will be sold first in their department. All youth selling their animal(s) during the Livestock Sale are required to wear appropriate clothing (No T-Shirts, Shorts, or Sandals).

Please remember that all Livestock Sale checks must be deposited or cashed within 90 days of the date printed on the check. If the check is past 90 days old, the check is void and will not be able to be deposited. If you would happen to lose your livestock check before depositing it, you will need to contact the Sr. Fairboard and request a replacement check. If this would happen, you will be asked to pay a $35 stop check fee plus a $15 fee to rewrite the check. Advisors and youth will be notified when these checks are available.

Fair Books

The 2018 Paulding County Fair books are able to be picked up from the Paulding County Extension Office Monday thru Friday from 8:00 am to 4:30 pm. The Fair book contains the Fair schedule, rules for all departments, and just about anything else that you would need to know about the Paulding County Fair. Jr. Fair youth and families would benefit from having this publication and it is encouraged to pick one up in advance of the fair. Fair books will also be available in the Senior Fairboard office when they open for the season as well as during the fair.

Caring for your Livestock at the Fair

The Paulding County Fair, like all other fairs in the country, is a public event that enables the youth to demonstrate to everyone what they have learned through their project. This includes the correct care of their livestock. The Livestock Committee will be checking pens, waterers, and feeders for proper care. If your animal is found to not have water, food, or a dirty pen, a picture will be taken and the situation will be discussed. Please be sure that you care for your animals appropriately every day, multiple times per day, including the week of fair. We want everyone to see that the youth of Paulding County are doing everything they can to ensure quality care for animals.

Livestock Move-Out

The Paulding County Junior Fairboard would like to remind you of their rules regarding removing your animals from the Fairgrounds at the conclusion of the Paulding County Fair. The 2018 Paulding County Fair handbook states: "All Jr. Fair entries will be released after 7:00 am on Sunday, June 17th. Fair exhibits (including livestock being taken home) must not leave the grounds without the permission of the Livestock Committee. Animals will not be permitted to return and premiums will be forfeited. Any animal taken off the fairgrounds prior to the release time as stated in the Fairbook will be charged a fee of $100 per animal to be deducted from livestock sale check or invoiced for the amount." Please remember this rule as you plan for moving out on Sunday, June 17th.

"Pirates of 4-H Camp Palmer-argh"

Camping Corner

The 2018 Paulding County 4-H Camp planning is coming along wonderfully thanks to the dedication of all of our AMAZING 4-H Camp Counselors. Hats off to Krisi Williams for her help once again with preparing for camp. They have been working extremely hard and have been having a lot of fun with this year's camp theme, "Pirates of 4-H Camp Palmer-argh". In a recent meeting, the counselors reviewed the schedule for the week of camp and the excitement grew even more now that they have realized that camp is less than three months away.

Numerous activities take place during 4-H Camp to make it an enjoyable experience for all. Campers look forward to dancing, swimming, archery, zipline, canoeing on Harrison Lake, Gaga Ball, Flying Squirrel, Campfire, Human Foosball, and many others.

Paulding County 4-H invites all youth who have just completed the third grade to those who have completed the 9th grade to attend 4-H Camp Palmer. Youth do not have to be enrolled in 4-H to attend Camp. The cost for camp this year is $180 per camper for 4-H members and $200 for non-4-H members. Scholarships are available to help offset the cost of Camp. Camp registrations are available online or in the office as well as camp scholarships.

Cloverbuds are also able to partake in the 4-H Camp experience. We will be holding a Cloverbud Day Camp on Wednesday, July 11th. The cost for this one day camp experience is $15 and will include a craft, lunch, swimming, a camp tour, line dancing, a snack, and other activities. Registration forms for Cloverbud camp are available on our website or in the office. Like 4-H Camp, Cloverbud Camp is for any youth (4-H and non 4-H youth) who is 5-7 years old (youth who will complete Kindergarten thru those who will complete 2nd grade this school year). Parents may stay for Cloverbud Camp and enjoy the day with their child. The parent registration fee is $10.

Be sure to invite all of your friends and family to 4-H Camp Palmer.

Project Spotlight

The most popular still project for Paulding County 4-H in 2018 is 584 Focus on Photography. In this project youth will learn how to use a digital or film camera to take quality pictures and how to evaluate them before and after they take them. This comprehensive introduction to the world of photography covers camera settings, lighting techniques, and composition skills. Fixed lens, or “point and shoot” cameras are okay.

One of the many reasons this project is so popular is that it does not require a special camera and allows you to utilize what you already have.

This project is the first of a series of photography projects offered through Ohio 4-H and is rated 3.2 out of 5 stars. Please visit Project Central for more information.
